PRESENTATION DESCRIPTION:

Ellen Kamhi, PhD, RN, The Natural Nurse®, will present ancient theories and modern scientific validation about the spectacular healing activities of Herbal Medicine. We will delve deeply into Botanical Secrets that can be gleaned from The Doctrine of Signatures and investigate the health supportive potential credited to a group of herbs referred to as Adaptogens. Modern research has uncovered various mechanisms of action that may explain their ability to help the body resist and adapt to stress. These include positive effects on biosynthesis of RNA and proteins, balancing carbohydrate metabolism, reducing cortisol, and decreasing inflammatory mediators. Lets investigate the secrets!
